RE: New Poll Results Show GOP U.S. Rep. Adrian Smith Vulnerable in NE-CD-3

DT: October 22, 2025

A recent survey of 500 likely 2026 general election voters in Nebraska's 3rd Congressional District¹ shows U.S. Rep. Adrian Smith's re-elect number way under water and voters in Nebraska's 3rd district hungry for change.

- Adrian Smith's Re-elect number is way under water at 25%.

- Becky Stille received a % exactly as expected for an unknown newcomer candidate.

Democrat Becky Stille v. Republican Adrian Smith

Would vote to elect Becky Stille:	20%
Would vote to re-elect Adrian Smith:	25%
Would vote not to re-elect Adrian Smith:	46%
Undecided:	9%

In summary, Adrian Smith is vulnerable due to rising grocery bills and healthcare costs as well as Trump's tariffs and Argentina $40B give away to help Argentina's famers angering Nebraska's working families and farmers.

Adrian Smith's weakness opens the door for Becky Stille to make this race very competitive, provided her campaign has the resources to communicate her compelling profile and campaign message to the voters. With the necessary resources behind her campaign, Becky can win this seat.

It's Nebraska Research Associates, a polling firm, reaching out about Nebraska's 3rd congressional district 2026 election.

Which of the following three statements most closely reflects how you feel about Nebraska's 3rd congressional election: 1, 2, 3 or undecided 4?

1. I agree with statement 1, text reply: 1

1. Trump & Republican U.S. Rep. Adrian Smith, as they have promised, have done a great job in lowering your grocery bill, brought down healthcare prices, are helping American farmers, & doing the best they can to keep rural hospitals open. I would vote in 2026 to re-elect Adrian Smith for U.S. Congress.

2. I agree with statement 2, text reply: 2

2. Becky Stille, a moderate newcomer Democrat for U.S. Congress in Nebraska's 3rd district, a working mom, works in the agriculture industry & struggles like the many families in Nebraska. Becky believes Nebraska's families need affordable healthcare and a real reduction in their grocery bill. Becky believes we need to stop the tariffs which are hurting Nebraska's farmers. I would vote in 2026 for Becky Stille for U.S. Congress.

3. I agree with statement 3, text reply: 3

3. Trump & Republican U.S. Rep. Adrian Smith have lied to the American people about what they promised. My grocery bill is higher, I'm paying more for healthcare, Nebraska's farmers are being hurt by tariffs, Medicaid has been cut causing rural hospitals to potentially close & our democracy is being torn apart. I would NOT vote in 2026 to re-elect Adrian Smith for U.S. Congress.

4. Undecided, text reply: 4
